DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1a. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 6/6/06 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-14, 18-19, 21-26, 28-32, and 37-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Clingman et al (US 4,269,903).

As to claims 1-4, 18-19, 21, and 28-32, Clingman et al disclose a die coating on the metal mold, wherein the coating including a porous layer of ceramic material, wherein the ceramic is oxides powder (col. 1, lines 45-65).

As to claim 5 and 6, the polymer is thermoplastic (col. 1, line 57).

Art Unit: 1725

As to claim 7, the particle size is not less than 1 micron and not more than 60 micron (col. 3, line 51).

As to claims 8-14, Clingman et al disclose a process for providing a coating on the die comprising the steps of forming an initial coating of organic polymer and ceramic material by co-deposition of powders by thermal spraying, plasma spraying, and heating the coating to remove the polymer (col. 1, line 52 – col. 2, line 50), wherein the thickness is about 250 to 400 micron (col. 3, line 29).

As to claims 22-26, Clingman disclose a metal mold coated in a section with non-porous ceramic die coating and in another section, with a die coating including a porous layer using thermal spraying (col. 1, lines 50-65 and figure). The heating temperature can be heated up to 450 degrees C to remove the polymer material.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Clingman et al (US '903).

Clingman et al disclose the claimed invention, but lacks the disclosure of heating up to 450 degrees. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time applicant's invention was made to heat up to 450 degrees in order to melt the entire polymer coating.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 33-36 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed 6/6/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the layer 3' is not porous. Examiner respectfully disagrees. The layer 3' is thermally sprayed onto the substrate. When the powder is thermally sprayed, air is trapped in between the powders resulting in a porous layer. Therefore, layer 3' is porous. As for the new amendment in claim 26, the porous layer 3' is between the claimed range.

Art Unit: 1725
